ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This is the final version of the African Water Development Report (AWDR) covering more than 25 African countries. It comes after the interim edition, which was prepared for review at the Pan African Implementation and Partnership Conference on Water (PANAFCON), held in Addis Ababa in December 2003 to round off the International Year of Freshwater. It is one of the tangible outcomes of the joint efforts of all United Nations Agencies active in the water sector in Africa, UN-Water/Africa and affiliated institutions/experts at national levels.

This process was undertaken under the general direction of all the heads of the participating agencies, including the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), the World Meteorological Organization (WMO), the United Nations Human Settlements Programme (UN-HABITAT), the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (ECA).

ECA assumed its responsibility of producing and publishing the Report under the overall leadership of its Executive Secretaries, K.Y. Amoako and Abdoulie Janneh .

We acknowledge the support provided by Josue Dione, Director of the Sustainable Development

Division of ECA and Mr. Mohammed Tawfik of WMO, who is the current Chairperson of the UN-Water/Africa Group.

The Netherlands Ministry of Development Cooperation provided the seed funding for the AWDR process, as part of its support to UN-Water/Africa under the Interagency Group for Water in Africa (IGWA) project. Our appreciation also goes to the African Development Bank for its financial contribution to the interim edition and for reviewing the drafts.

I would like to acknowledge with thanks, the invaluable contributions of all the agencies, reviewers and national writers. Special appreciation goes to Dr. Kwadwo Andah of the University of Perugia for the excellent synthesis of the Report which was undertaken with passion and conviction. The Report is a self-defined and sustainable monitoring tool to measure progress in the implementation of the Africa Water Vision 2025 and the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) as they pertain to water.

Special appreciation goes to the consulting Editor, Emmanuel Nwukor and members of the ECA Communication Team led by Yinka Adeyemi for guiding the publication process of this final edition.
