A team under the overall guidance of Patrick Asea (Director, Economic and Social Policy Division) prepared this report. The team was led by Befekadu Degefe (until August 2001) and Shamika Sirimanne (current team leader). The core team comprised Alem Abraha, Bethelhem Belayneh, Kwabia Boateng, Derrese Degefa, Geoffrey Mwau, Oliver Paddison, Alemayehu Seyoum, and Shewaye Woldeyes of the Economic and Social Policy Division. Others in the division who contributed to the report included Adrian Gauci, Hilary Nwokeabia, Patrick Osakwe, and Jean Thisen. Peter da Costa, Ron Kempe Hope, Max Jarrett, and Elene MaKonnen of the Cabinet Office of the Executive Secretary worked closely with the team at various stages in the process. The work was carried out under the general direction and supervision of the Executive Secretary, K.Y. Amoako.

Tenaye Ahmed and Bethelhem Belayneh organized a wide range of consultations within the Economic Commission for Africa and with academics and policymakers for this report. The report also benefited from the comments and suggestions of the external peer review group in Washington, D.C.: Laurie-Ann Agama and Nanette Christ of the International Trade Commission, Emmanuel Goued and Carl Gray of the UN's Department of Economic and Social Affairs, Aissatou Gueye and Bongsi Kunene of the World Bank, Swinton Holden of the Embassy of South Africa, Willene Johnson of Cornell University, Ahmedou Ould-Abdallah of the Global Coalition for Africa, Michael Yidaw of the Embassy of Ethiopia, and Geert Almekinders, Francesco Caramazza, Arto Kovanen, Michael Nowak, and Tove Strauss of the International Monetary Fund.

The comments from colleagues in the Sub-Regional Development Centres at the peer-review meeting in Casablanca are noted with appreciation. Participating were Emile Ahohe, Patrick Bugembe, Biran Cisse, Henri Fourcault, Hakim Ben Hammouda, Sylvain Maliko, Guillermo Mangue, Andre Nikwigize, Adelilah Ouaqouaq, Halidou Ouedraogo, Abedelouhab Rezig, and Bossa Marcellin Vlavonou.

Comments from participants at the meeting of the Expert Group on World Economic Situation and Projects (Project LINK) in New York hosted by the Development Policy Analysis Division of the UN Department for Economic and Social Affairs (DESA) also greatly enriched the report.

Preparation of the report was aided by background research by Mouna Cherkaoui, Charlotte du Toit, Alemayehu Geda, Stephen Gelb, Keffa Muga, Sekou Sangare, Charles Soludo, and Moses Tekere.

The final report was edited, designed, and produced by Communications Development Incorporated's Bruce Ross-Larson, Meta de Coquereaumont, Wendy Guyette, Paul Holtz, Damon Iacovelli, Michael Molanphy, Stephanie Rostron, and Alison Strong.

Sulafa Al-Bassam, Kazi Rahman, and Maria Baquero of the regional commission's New York office coordinated the delivery, launch, and dissemination of the report in New York.

Special thanks to Peter da Costa, Charlotte Mfasoni, Mercy Wambui, Teshome Yohannes, and other members of the Economic Commission for Africa Communication Team, who provided input to the copyediting, production, and design of the report.
