ECA Library posters available for distribution

Over the past year, you have seen the library posters pictured here throughout campus and at our Sub-Regional Offices. As more and more of the library's services move online, the more innovative we can be in the ways we serve our staff working outside headquarters. These kinds of marketing materials can also serve to publicize ECA's services to our partners throughout the region. It is crucial that member states recognize the value of the Library's services and seek a creative vision of how the Library & Information Management Services Unit can help the Commission with its work & outputs. Here are a few ideas on how you can use the library's publicity materials as a way to interact with your partners, disseminate ECA knowledge and raise the level of information management on the continent:

- Send copies to African Universities and encourage them to post them at their libraries and request more information about ECA Library's mission to strengthen access to research across the region.
- Send copies or electronic versions to conference and meeting participants prior to their arrival on campus so they can look forward to the resources that will be available to them.
- Send copies to your contacts at Diplomatic Offices throughout the region and encourage them to utilize the Library's resources on their next trip to Addis or one of the Sub-Regional Offices.
