Key messages from AU member states

- Reporting on SDGs & Agenda 2063 shall be mandatory – not voluntarily conducted.
- Digital platforms for sharing experiences on SDGs governance issues are highly encouraged.
- AU member states do not stand on equal foot either the implementation or reporting on SDGs & Agenda 2063 goals and the experienced countries are encourage to assist other AU MSs.
- Data accuracy is a real challenge and regional efforts should be strengthened to encourage national statistics’ capacities.
- There is no one-size fits all model when it comes to the institutional arrangements/or settings for managing SDGs at national levels. However, a national committee with clearly defined mandate and inclusive representation of state’s bureaucracies, CSOs and private sector shall be put in place. Rwanda gives a good example of continuous executive meetings – approx. every week- to follow on the implementation of SDGs.
- SDGs financing is a major issue globally and particularly in Africa. Partnerships should be founded on Africa’s interests. Clear vision and good governance are inextricable aspects for the effective use of aid for SDGs.
- The APRM shall preserve its commitment as regional platform for sharing experiences among African countries – especially those which are preparing for the HLPF 2020 to support their national efforts including the report preparations.
